1. Drawn by a pair of 'Belgian black' horses, with leather harnesses & black plumes. The maximum distance for a horse-drawn hearse is 3-miles radius of cemetery. For longer journeys an additional motorised hearse charged at £230 would be required for the start or remainder of the journey.
2. Embalming is a technique used to safely preserve your loved one and restore their appearance until the day of the funeral. It is chosen by the majority of families and is strongly recommended.
3. When embalming is not chosen it is typically for medical or religious reasons, in which case you should discuss the implications with an arranger.
4. Not included: - a coffin which is selected separately and starts from £380
- third-party fees such as council fees / florist charges / funeral notices.
